

YOUNG REPORTERS

THINK, WRITE, CREATE

ARE YOU PASSIONATE ABOUT
YOUTH & EU MATTERS?
DO YOU WANT TO LEARN THE ART OF REPORTING?

YOUNG REPORTERS

THINK, WRITE, CREATE

Call for Young Reporters Project

Are you a young person (16 years – 30 years), passionate about reporting real life stories? Aġenzija Żgħażaġh, is inviting young people to join an exciting project, 'Young Reporters'.

About the Young Reporters Project

Aġenzija Żgħażaġh, the National Youth Agency is looking for aspiring young reporters who are passionate about youth and EU matters and have a desire to tell real life stories and encourage other young people to get involved and learn more about EU issues. Selected young people must meet the criteria indicated below.

In 2020, the Young Reporters project involved eight young people from different walks of life had the opportunity to receive free online training featuring ways on how to conduct an interview and report back to the audience, whilst also having the possibility to interview other young people and have it reviewed by a professional journalist who shared tips and tricks for improvement. More over the young reporters articles were featured on different websites. You can view last years success here.

Who can apply?

Young applicants are expected to be :

- Between 16 and 30 years of age
- Fluent in Maltese and English
- Have a flare for journalism
- Passionate about youth & EU matters

YOUNG REPORTERS

THINK, WRITE, CREATE

What to expect ?

- Free online training
- Learn how to develop articles
- Have your work reviewed by a professional journalist
- Have your work featured on different websites
- Work within a network of young reporters

What is expected from the young reporters?

- To attend the online training session
- To be motivated and engaged
- To work with other young people
- To develop four (4) articles

What happens next?

Applications deadline is 10th March 2021. You can register now.

Following the deadline, you will receive an email with further information.

For more details send an email to Ms Sarah Spiteri on sarah.spiteri@gov.mt.